"The opening of this subsidiary is a fantastic challenge. After Brazil, I am happy to take on this new, strategic adventure within the Keyrus Group. I am personally very fond of Portugal, as it is a country with enormous human and cultural wealth. The timing of the launch could not be better, as the market is highly dynamic, thanks to the digitalization of companies, particularly as Cloud and Analytics gain traction within organizations", comments Javier Riera, Director – Southern Europe at Keyrus Group.

"This new subsidiary was a natural step in our European expansion, because of the perspective of new 'nearshore' service lines for our European customers.
